III. ALTERNATIVES

IV. BACKGROUND

The City Council is being asked to consider Bauchi, Nigeria to begin as a Friendship City. Bauchi town is the capital of Bauchi State and traditional emirate, northeastern Nigeria. Bauchi town lies on the railroad from Maiduguri to Kafanchan and has road connections to Jos, Kano, and Maiduguri. The emirate was founded in 1800-10 by Commander Yakubu.

After several successful campaigns, Yakubu founded the town of Bauchi in 1809.

With the coming of the railway in 1961, Bauchi grew as a collecting point for peanuts (groundnuts) and cotton and a trade center in sorghum, millet, cowpeas, corn (maize), cassava, and vegetables and in cattle, goats, and sheep. Cotton weaving and dyeing, tanning, and blacksmithing are traditional activities. The town's industry includes an asbestos factory and a meat-products processing plant. Abubakar Tafawa Balewa University (originally called Federal University of Technology) and federal polytechnic colleges are in the town of Bauchi. The town of Bauchi has an estimated population of 415,000.

Councilmembers Davis-Holmes and Hicks, Sr. believe that there could be collective interest with Bauchi, Nigeria to broaden and strengthen the similar values on cultural understanding, training, environmental stewardship, educational opportunities and economic development. The opportunity to establish a friendship would potentially identify activities that can generate new initiatives to further nurture economic, social, and cultural relationships.
